Brady Dreasher entered the art field in 1998 and has served the arts industry as an appraiser, artist's representative, broker, art fair VIP director during Art Basel, exhibition curator, consignment contract negotiator, estate consultant, auction conductor, collector, private-treaty acquisition consultant and manager. After starting Original Art Brokerage in 2000, it has grown and transitioned into his current, nationally-known and recognized Appraisal and Asset Consulting company known as Art of Estates.

In addition to being a member of the regional Better Business Bureau and Angie's List with an A+ rating, Art of Estates director Brady Dreasher brings a spectrum of experience to the evaluation field. After spending 10 years selling art privately and subsequently 5 more years with Kansas' largest privately owned gallery, Dreasher has dedicated himself to the appraisal industry. This foundation of knowledge coupled with educational training from trusted associations by attending more than 17 conferences and 26 art and antique fairs across the United States within the past 6 years has added even more reliability to his company's expertise.

Dreasher is the recipient of ISA's 2015 Young Leadership Award, a proud benefactor level sponsor member of the Foundation for Appraisal Education, involved with multiple ISA committees, four independently respected appraisal organizations and has been featured in the Miami Art Guide, Hollywood Sentinel, Dallas Paper City Magazine, KAKE-TV News, a Kansas City Public Television event, Art-Collecting.com of Seattle, Washington and other publications.
